Buy at Home. A correspondent writes us that an item appeared in THE STAR lately which seemed to invite unfavorable comparison in the matter of prices between our merchants and those of northern cities. We have to say that if anything liable to any such construction appeared in our columns it was an oversight, and was entirely opposed to the whole tenor of the views set forth almost daily in THE STAR in regard to the duty of the community to stand by its own business men. Our growth and prosperity, as we have many times urged, depends upon our dealing at home-keeping our money here to build up the city-and not by sending it away to drain off the life-blood of the community. We have taken pains, many times, to correct the mischievous fallacy that our citizens can do better by purchasing abroad than at home; and not long; ago we cited a number of instances where Washingtonians, going to Northern cities for wool, (in the shape of bargains,) came back shorn. Other instances might be readily cited. A lady correspondent of THE STAR told, not long ago, in our columns, of the mistake she made in going North to buy carpeting, paying more, as she afterwards found, than it sold for in Washington, and, of course, being minus in the matter of traveling expenses. We were in a bookstore yesterday when a Department clerk, who was present, inquired the price of a handsome Bible on the shelves, and on being told that it was $7 expressed surprise and some annoyance, saying that he had paid $7 in Boston for the same kind of Bible, and had also paid $1.25 express charges on it; supposing that he was purchasing to much better advantage there than he could in Washington. A gentleman tormerly con-nected with the Smithsonian Institution. who has recently gone into the book business in Springfield, Mass., wrote lately to a Washington bookseller ordering a quantity of foreign stereoscopic views, saying that after examining the stocks in New York and Boston, he found none so satisfactory in price, freshness, or variety as those supplied in Washington. There was no reason why this should not be the case, since the Washington book-seller made his importations direct, and was guided by good taste and judgment in his purchases. The beautiful wares which attract so much attention on the White House tables were purchased at Washington crockery stores, after inspection had been made of all that Philadelphia and New York could show in that line. A gentleman who bought three or four dozen gutta-percha handle table knives of a new pattern in New York the other day, had the mortification to find that he could have got them here a dollar per dozen cheaper than he paid in New York, and saved the freight. A lady who has been in the habit for some years of making special trips to the North, at considerable expense, for the purchase of dry-goods. last week wished to match a piece of goods she had bought the day before in New York, and was both agreeably, and, (in view of the past) disagreeably, surprised to find that she could get it twenty-five cents a yard cheaper here than she paid in New York. A Bostonian had occasion to go into one of our shoestores for a pair of slippers, and coming from the headquarters of leather goods had a curlosity to ascertain what Washingtonians had to pay for boots and shoes, and was rather taken aback on finding that a pair of boots he wore and for which he paid $15 in Boston could be dupl cated by the Washington dealer for $12. Years ago some people used to fancy that they could buy clothing cheaper at the North than here, but with the present active competiton and large stocks, prices are so low here that nobody now thinks of purchasing clothing at the North. The same is true of jewelry. Visitors to Washthree or four of our jewelry stores are not surpassed by the same number in any city in the Union. Washington-made carriages have a reputation all through the country for excellence, having been introduced in almost every State through purchases made here by mem-bers of Congress and others; and it is a curious instance of how carriage-makers as well as prophets may be honored more abroad than at home, that a Washingtonian lately purchased a carriage that struck his fancy at a Philadelphia coach-shop, and found after he had got it home that it was made in Washington. We might extend these instances into every branch of business and trade carried on in Washington, but these will serve as illustrations. Among the reasons why our Washington dealers are able to do better by our citizens than the latter can do elsewhere, is the fact that they pay less rent for the same business accommodations than do the dealers in the great cities. Nearly all our merchants are men of experience and judgement, knowing what to buy and

DRINTING INKS.

TO PRINTERS.—We have been using for several veeks a very fine quality of Ink, from the Gray's Ferry manufactory of C. E. ROBINSON, which our pressmen say is the best for cylinder press newswork that they have used for a long time. It is a clear black, and free from all kinds of sediment. Mr. Robinson is a practical ink manufacturer, liberal and courteous in all business transactions, and as he has recently had the misfortune to be burned out, we are the more free to recommend his ink and himself to the patronage of all printers who desire a good article at very cheap rates.—"Delaware Gazette."

One of our cotemporaries also recommends it as follows:

FINE PRINTING INE.—We have for some time been using the news ink manufactured at the Gray's Ferry Printing Ink Works, Philadelphia, by C. E. ROBINSON, and, as stated some weeks ago, have found it better adapted to our presses than any ink we have had in our office for ten years. It is not only a very excellent article of ink, but it is furnished at very reasonable prices. The Works also manufacture Black and Colored Printing and Lithographic Inks, Varnishes, &c. Their address is Gray's Ferry road and Thirty-third street.—"Hagerstown (Maryland) Herald."

We never recommend an article in these columns unless it really merits it, and to learn whether our own opinion of the ink the "lax Payer" is now using coincided with our pressman's, we inquired his estimate. He replied, "Good, very good;" and as we never knew him to deviate from the truth, we inform our fellow-printers that this was said of ROB-INSON'S Philadelphia Printing Ink.—"Tax Payer," New York. One of our cotemporaries also recommends it a best satisfaction, we cordially recommend it to our brethren of the press generally.—"The American," Media, Pennsylvania.

This week's edition of the News is printed with ink from Gray's Ferry Works, Philadelphia. The ink is all that could be desired, and we cheerfully recommend it to the craft.—"Shippensburg News."

The ink with which this issue of the Times is trinted is from the Gray's Ferry Printing Ink Works of C. E. ROBINSON. It is clear, works clean, and is of sood color.—"E. Wells, Port Tobacco Times." Maryland.

GOOD INK.—One of the greatest sources of annoyance in a printing office is bad ink. We have tried various makes, paying sometimes very high prices, and failing. We now use the Ink manufactured at Gray's Ferry Printing Ink Works, by C. E. ROBINSON, and it gives satisfaction. We shall continue to use it, and commend it to others of the craft with confidence.—"Jeflersonian," West Chester, Pa.
